October 2022

Dear Club Presidents and Club Members,

Enclosed are your Report Forms for the year ending December, 2022. As in the past, they must be mailed to the Chairman whose name is listed on each form, postmarked by February 1, 2023.

Writing year end reports, including project narratives, is the best way to document your club history! When you submit your reports to NJSFWC, you assure that your club and its activities will be a part of our Federation's rich 128-year history. Without each and every club, there is no federation! Write proudly about the projects and programs done by your club to benefit your community.

Please share these forms with your Chairmen. No club president should ever have to write the club reports by themselves! The report forms are on our website and will be in a pdf fillable format. This will enable those who prefer, to type directly onto the forms before printing and mailing them to the appropriate chairmen.

Please remember that your narratives are extremely important to our NJSFWC Chairmen. The Chairmen write their reports using information contained in YOUR narratives. In addition, your Club Creativity Award entry may be selected from the narratives submitted, and winning entries selected by GFWC will receive a certificate and monetary award!

New this year is the Carol J. Sas Award. Most of you will remember Carol as the pleasant voice at the end of the phone always eager to answer questions from federation members. Carol worked at Headquarters for 38 years and was the Executive Director at NJSFWC. This award encompasses many facets of federation activities; meeting deadlines, contributions, projects and more. If you have any questions about the Carol J. Sas Award, please feel free to contact me.

Report Writing is important for documenting the history of your club while providing the NJSFWC with important information about your projects. Make sure your activities are included in the totals. Thank you for your Love, Loyalty & Friendship to your club and Federation!

In Federation Friendship,

Shirley A. Holly
NJSFWC President
